DETAILED ACTION

The amendment filed on 10/13/05 and the remarks presented therewith have carefully considered. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-3 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

1. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Amsler. Amsler discloses a collapsible container capable of carrying a single, large article or several articles, comprising a handle assembly (4) and a handle set made by configuration of multiple said handle assemblies (fig. 2); and an opposing handle set (fig. 3); a grip 6 securely attached to each handle assembly in each handle set; a stabilizing bar (upper rod 5) contiguous between each said grip in each said handle assembly (fig 1); a lift bar (lower rod 5) connected to said handle assembly; a surrounding flexible strap (rope 3) connected to said handle set; a means (latch 9) to connect said surrounding flexible strap to said surrounding flexible strap from said opposing handle set; a series of support straps (ropes 3) connected at one end to each said handle assembly (fig 3); a means to connect the opposite end of said support strap to an opposing said handle assembly (strap clip or latch 7; col. 3, lines 11-16).

2. Re claim 2, said stabilizing bar and said lifting bar are connected to said handle assemblies so as to support a repositioning and linear separation of said handle assemblies along said stabilizing bar and said lifting bar (col. 3, lines 30-37; fig. 1).

3. Re claim 3, said grip is an integral feature of said handle assembly by way of geometric shaping of said handle assembly (see fig. 2, grips 6 are integral to rods 4).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-3 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant has argued Amsler discloses a container for holding multiple articles and not a single, large article. In response the container of Amsler is clearly capable of holding a single, large article or several articles.

Applicant has argued Amsler discloses a container and not a lifting device. In response, Amsler discloses a container to be lifted by "suitable hoisting gear" (col. 1, lines 16-25). Furthermore, applicant has not claimed a device for lifting the system.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 3652

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
